Announcements

- Luis Aguilar is the new Tutor for the course. Welcome, Luis. He'll be in touch with respect to setting office hours and contact info.
- Members of the IPython team will be visiting for a Q&A session next Thursday April 17. Let's give some thought to questions you have.
- Note what I assigned last time – which I've now formally put into bCourses: Project Progress Report 1a: link to project repos and to starter notebook
- I've read all the progress reports. I asked for information about your individual role in the project, and what you're doing personally. I gave reports 4/4 this time – but will not do so unless I see some description of what you are doing individually as part of your project.
- http://www.mapshaper.org/ is the web interface to convert among shapefiles, geojson, and topojson I wanted to show you last time.
